Sura Al-Ma'oun's View of Religion Between Ratification and Application Analytical Study

Aisha Al Sayed Mohammed Al Sayed Hassan
Department of Interpretation and Sciences of the Qur'an - Faculty of Islamic and Arab Studies Girls - Cairo.

Abstract:
This study is a study of the interpretation of Sura al-Ma'oun, an analytical explanatory study, which is concerned with highlighting the purposes and gifts of the holy surah, far from going into what does not depend on the statement of meaning, because this study aims to clarify the importance of the subject of sura in fact, where the surah addressed an important social issue, namely: the distance of religion from practical application in the reality of people, their lives and their transactions, and the study in this research relied on the analytical sediti method, and came in the introduction, preface, preface, and conclusion, the most important findings and recommendations.

Keywords: Religion, let, exhort, woe, see, ma'amoon.
